This is a summary of how our school delivers music education to all our pupils across two areas – curriculum music and co-curricular provision including musical experiences and what changes we are planning in future years. This information is to help pupils and parents or carers understand what our school offers and who we work with to support our pupils' music education.

Part A: Curriculum music

This is about what we teach in lesson time and how much time is spent teaching music.

Lessons are delivered by specialist music teachers (Love2singUK) from Year 5-Year 9. Children have one 50 minute lesson of music a week. Lessons take place in a music room with a great selection of resources. Children have the option to sign up to the lunchtime music clubs.

If students wish to take GCSE Music, there is the option to join the GCSE cohort at Ipswich Academy, also part of Paradigm Trust.

Students in each year group explore a new style of music every half term. Musicality and musical skills, i.e performing, listening and composing are developed incrementally over each year group.

We aim to promote pupils' confidence in and outside of the music classroom as well as their overall academia. The Music curriculum has been designed to help students to understand different musical styles and cultures and recognise their cultural importance.

The curriculum has been designed to suit the needs of the learners within our setting and classes. The lessons are created and taught to cater to the strengths and needs of the learners in each class.

Part B: Co-curricular music

We are proud to offer peripatetic music lessons to students in Drums, Piano and Guitar. These lessons have excellent uptake with students learning on a 1:1 basis or in small groups. Each week, students who sign up for peripatetic music lessons have a 20 minute session with an instrumental specialist. In these lessons, students can work towards graded music exams.

As of September 2024, there will be charges incurred for instrumental lessons at the following rates per half term:

We offer a lunchtime club where students can explore their musical interests. Previously the students have created podcasts.

Students have access to various music and performance workshops and have connections to several companies including ICM (Ipswich community media).

At Woodbridge Road Academy, we also offer a further lunchtime music club where students can explore the skills needed to play different instruments such as guitar and keyboard, developing and deepening their curriculum knowledge. This club is run by support staff.

Students are also encouraged to join activities run by Norfolk and Suffolk Music hub.

In the future

- we plan to expand our extra curricular offerings for Music and performing arts
- We are working to provide further performance opportunities for the students at Woodbridge Road Academy
